LEARNING OUTCOME FOR THE WEEK:

This week was productive, starting with fixing an issue with the system's attachment feature and cleaning up code. I focused on learning PHP frameworks and REST APIs to enhance my skills in web development. During holidays, I returned refreshed and ready to tackle new challenges. I received feedback from our head supervisor to add audit trail tabs, including admin, user, and delete logs. I implemented these logs, reviewing join statements in databases and working on delete logs, which proved more complex. I also enhanced the structure of our tables using JavaScript's data table CSS. Overall, a week of learning and growth.
